Why now: the opportunity

A midfielder with 51 LaLiga games and 82 in three seasons as a regular at Sporting de Gijón is rarely on the market in September. Christian is, because his last two years (a spell in Georgia that was cut short and a mid-season return with Real Avilés) gave him fewer minutes than his level deserves. Today that works in favour of the club that signs him: no transfer fee, realistic terms, 29 years old and the motivation of a player who wants to be important again. For a team that needs an experienced, professional-level midfielder, this is a high-return, low-risk signing, available immediately.
